

OUTCOME

The fittings were completely stripped, polished to a mirror finish and then electroplate lacquer applied, new glass installed, the internal baffle repainted and the lampholder replaced. The fittings were then rewired and tested ready to be handed back to the client.

A client brought in a set of antique lanterns that had been in-situ for many years and wanted them restored to their former glory by our Bespoke team ...

ARRIVAL

How the lanterns looked when they were dropped off by our client.

Old internal baffle plate and lampholder.

New internal baffle plate and lampholder installed.

After polishing ... the detail on these lanterns is stunning!

Cleaning out the insides and stripping out the old wiring.

The old glass a bit dirty and past its best ...

Loose debris cleared ...

Starting the strip down ...

Installing new wiring and testing ...

Let there be light!
